You have witnessed the growth and development of both students and school. You have seen two additions to the main building . . . expansion of curriculum . . . increase in enrollment. Traditions have been established . . . activities have expanded . . . during these twenty years of constant growing.

Watching these changing times bring new faces . . . new ideas, new hopes, you, Mr. Sharp, our principal, have seen Howe grow. Being our first principal was a hard job . . . decisions had to be made . . . rules established . . . problems solved. But through the years, you have led Howe to a position of prominent success and achievement . . . and in this her 20th year.

Two decades have passed since Principal Charles M. Sharp first opened the doors of Howe. In this time over 5,000 students have entered with the desire to learn and have been graduated, armed with knowledge to meet the world. As in the past, his welcome is the signal for the start of another year of growth and learning at Thomas Carr Howe High School.

In this your 20th year...

We honor those who worked to make

For several years Thomas Carr Howe High School existed only in the minds of people who were eager for an eastside school. Through the crusading of various civic clubs, hopes and dreams began to materialize when in 1928, 10.9 acres of the old Allen estate on Pleasant Run were purchased. A more beautiful site could not have been selected for a school. Violet Hill, called so because of the abundance of violets, stands overlooking a broad campus which extends to the banks of Pleasant Run.

Blueprints were drawn and approved, and on May 28, 1937, Mrs. Louis W. Bruck, then president of the Irvington Union of Clubs, broke ground for the building. The cornerstone, containing such items as a Bible, a United States flag, a coin, and a biography of Dr. Thomas Carr Howe, for whom the school is named, were laid on November 19. On dedication day, after Mr. Hilton U. Brown had delivered the acceptance speech, Principal Charles M. Sharp officially opened Howe by signaling the tower clock to be started.

Since the building was first erected, a gym, cafeteria, and new wing of classrooms have been added. Each year, Howe has developed further both physically and academically; as enrollment has increased, so has the curriculum expanded. It is well for us to look back on all these past accomplishments at Howe, but let us also not forget to look ahead to the future.

Conference hour and chats with Remember the fun we've had this year . . . the fads that came and went . . . girls wearing colored kneesocks and boys wearing knickers . . . crewneck sweaters and the Ivy League look. Recall the one time lunchlines were short when the Asiatic Flu kept 800 students out of school. Some fads and events have changed . . . other things remained the same. Boys and girls took their problems to Elmer . . . Mr. Smartz, pencil in hand, held regular con-fabs with the boys . . . Howeites won honorary awards. The annual Mock Election came off with a bang . . . conventions and caucuses took up students' time as Howe went political. A trumpet call from the Tower welcomed the Violet Queen to the annual birthday pageant . . . the Philosopher and Student Council President presented her with the year's progress. So another year drew to an end; a year formed by new experiences and old traditions.

Conference chats are nothing new for Dean of Boys Kenneth Smartz. Since he confronts Howe's "line-up" every day, he has heard the entire list of alibis from late busses and flooded carburetors to alarms that "just didn't go off." Aside from his penal duties, the boys like and respect him.

Elmer remain traditional

These Howe gals in lunch line prove they are up on the current fads by sporting ducktails, page boys, and ponytails as the latest in teen coiffures.

Howeites get their temperatures checked as Nurse Celia Smith keeps a look-out for the Asian flu bug.

Whether giving advice, telling jokes, or listening to problems, "Elmer" will always be remembered. Ron Carrico, Dick Parrish, Cris Clark, Jan Walls, and Dick Strange stop for a chat with Mr. Summit.

Violet processional salutes

As tradition demands, gaily bedecked dancing girls precede the queen and her court in the May Pageant processional to Violet Hill.

Howe's achievements

Painting a pretty picture to music, girls honor the birthday celebration with a dance around the Maypole.

Queen of Violets Judy Campbell ascends the tower steps to take her seat of honor overlooking Howe's campus. Queen Judy was chosen from candidates nominated by the junior girls' club, Vihota.

"Hail the Queen of Violets!" Each year the queen returns to Violet Hill to celebrate Howe's birthday. Queen Judy receives the crown from Philosopher Gary Holobek as he relates Howe's 20th year achievements.

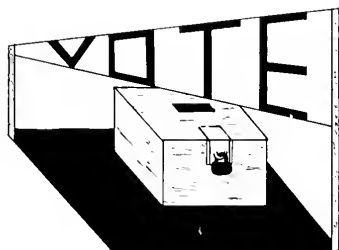

Traditions

Elections, awards, assemblies

Each year social studies classes take part in a Mock Election to enable them to better understand election procedures. Campaigning plays a big part in the activity. "Kissing babies" is the strategy used by Federalists Dick Cordill, elected lieutenant-governor, and Jerry Dobbs, candidate for governor.

Howeites campaign for their favorites, but the nominees do some of their own vote-getting. Nationalist candidate for lieutenant-governor Carl Swenson watches as gubernatorial winner Ron Carrico shows how he used the "kissing babes" method to secure Doris Vogt's vote.

Party conventions add color and enthusiasm to the Mock Election as the delegates register their choices for office.

enliven the school year

Special assemblies add variety to a routine day. Howeites get a taste of concert music when the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra makes its annual visit.

Right: Each year, the Irvington American Legion post recognizes a junior boy and girl on the basis of outstanding citizenship, scholarship, and leadership. The 1957-1958 Legion good citizens are Jack Gilfoy and Julia Freeman.

Left: Outstanding Howeites Jean Kovac, Steve Carter and Nancy Hoffman exchange congratulations on their honors. Jean received the 1957 Altrusa Merit Award; Steve was Howe's UN representative; the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award went to Nancy.

In this your 20th year . . .

Math, English, History top Howe's

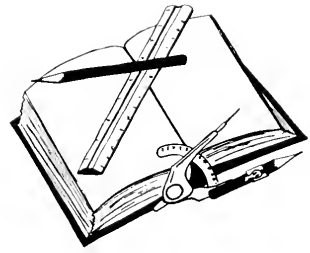

Remember those long homework assignments and terrible tests . . . Reading Silas Marner and Great Expectations in English wasn't nearly as bad as we had expected . . . History classes helped to open our minds to the past as famous people, from Alexander the Great to Abraham Lincoln, seemed to come alive right before our very eyes . . . Squares, trapezoids, and triangles became the main problem in geometry class . . . Chemistry was no breeze, but we still had fun studying compounds and mixtures . . .

Many a girl found out the difference between a battery and a crank case from her experiences in physics . . . Business courses taught Howeites practical subjects such as typing, filing, shorthand . . . Language classes helped students understand foreign countries, their people and their problems. Latin students even held a banquet like the ones of Caesar's time. From the study of Home Nursing to a course in Greek and Latin derivatives, classes are designed to meet both personal interests and graduation requirements and to prepare Howe students to take their places in the world.

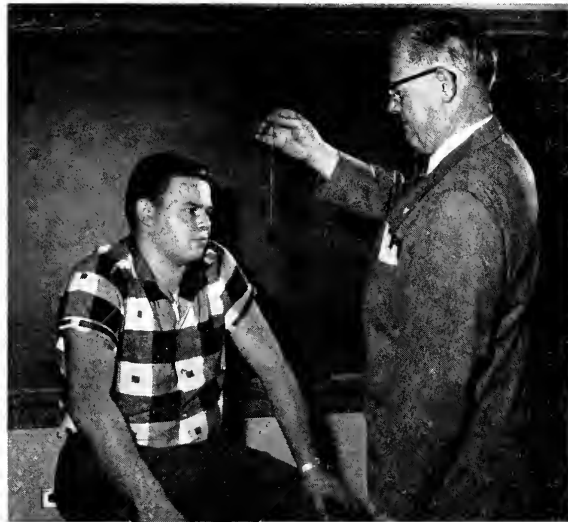

Interested in Howe's history, Mr. Bruce Beck's English IIIx class did research on Howe's second ten years to be added to the first ten year history compiled by an earlier class. "Hitting the books," Karen Kish, Mike McDonald, Jim Surface, and Alaska Haugh collected historic facts in the life of Howe.

list of academic classes

Howeites may not go around the world in 80 days, but Sandy Bowen, Barbara Branam, and Steve Bisselberg study the globe in 36 weeks of World History.

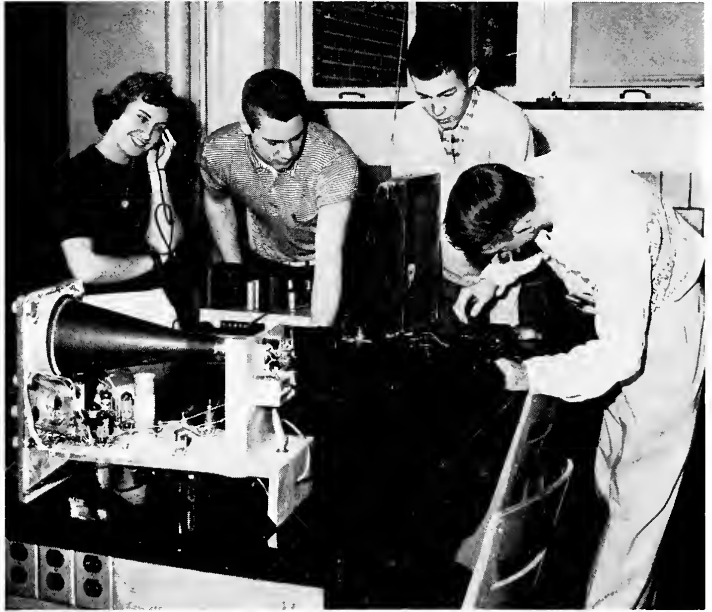

Hypnotism is just one of the fields studied by Howe psychology students. Mr. Wade Fuller explains some facts about the art to Butch Gimbel in psychology class.

Ronnie Banta gains an assist from Mrs. Marie Wilcox in geometry class as he masters the art of line-bisecting.

Classes

Science, languages, business ed.

Wondering what makes a satellite go, junior physicists Gloria Fleenor, Jack Cashman, Jim Waldron, and Neale Rosser plan their own Sputnik in the lab.

Business education classes grow as more girls plan to enter the business world. Barbara Roberts types, Sharon Meyer and Judi Hannewald take dictation, and Judy Hedrick studies filing as Howe girls plan their future.

look to the future

All "Romaned" out in a stylish toga, John Buckley drills his Latin classmates with flash cards, one of several devices used to develop students' vocabularies.

"Habla Espanol?" . . . Recording Spanish conversations helps J. C. Halbrooks and Suzi Sferruzzi to learn and speak the language.

"Ouvrez le livre!" Those of the globe-trotter set who plan to visit far-away places, anticipate a trip to gay Paree as they study and practice French.

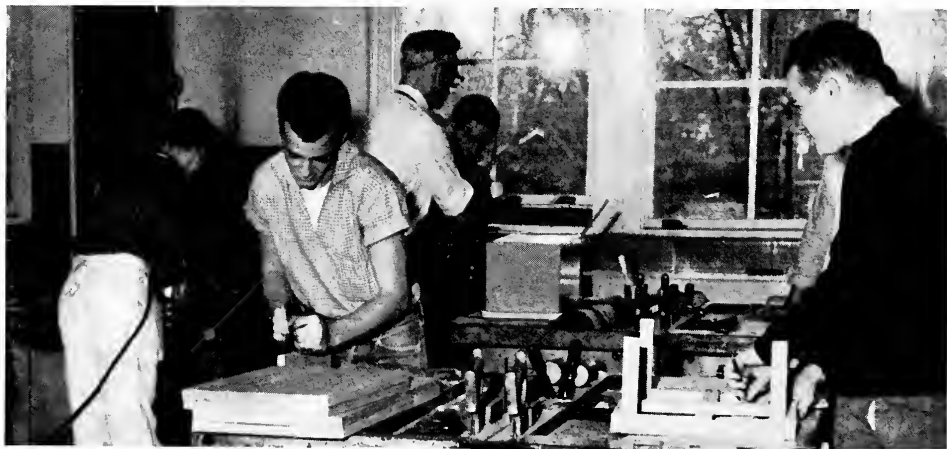

Classes

Shops, economics, art classes

Future homemakers get a start toward domesticity in home management class. Diane Dammeyer, Marilyn Sarber, Hilda Gartenman, and Linda McCawley admire their handiwork, illustrating table arrangement.

Wood-working boys make everything from furniture and bowls to high-jump standards and baseball bats in Mr. H. A. Vertrees' workshop classes.

broaden our interests

"Swing your partner!" echoes from the gym as guys and gals get together for a hoedown. Square dancing recently became part of the physical education program.

Today's handwriting on the wall! Using his artistic talent to keep Howeites "posted" on current events, Mike Tharp employs the paint and brush in art class.

In this your 20th year . . .

Social life whirls around games,

Remember the fun we've had this year . . . that night of the Brown and Gold when Seniors Maria Sirmin and Spencer Smith reigned as Brown Boy and Golden Girl . . . the gallons of grease paint, yards of costume material and hundreds of tired Howeites that produced this year's Pleasant Run Revue . . . how students love to dance, whether at a prom or Dog Patch U.S.A. and how dancing trends have changed . . . the waltz still holds first place but the jitterbug, stroll, hop, and the walk run a close second . . . the fun, from Fifi's Follies to the Country Store, where a carnival of food and entertainment prevailed at the Howe Holidaze . . . and when the Senior Prom marked the end of a year of social life at Howe.

A good time is had at the "Holidaze." Whether pitching free throws or shooting out candles with squirt guns, Howeites have fun vying for prizes.

Military Training creates

R.O.T.C. is an elective course at Howe which prepares the young men for their term in the armed forces after graduation. Its goal is to help the boys develop patriotism and a sense of responsibility for their country. Leadership qualities are stressed and emphasized among the cadets who are required to "dress out" in full uniform each Thursday and Friday. Grades and conduct play an important part in the selection of officers for the unit.

Under the direction of M/Sgt. W. J. Schmidt, the R.O.T.C. boys planned and sponsored the annual Military Ball on March 22. Honorary invitations were sent to the President, Governor Handley, and Mayor Bayt. R.O.T.C. sponsors Janet Gilpin, Ann Schumaker, Julie Pratt, Kay Sturgeon, and Lydia Hildreth, were candidates for Queen of the Ball. Ann was chosen the winner by the members of R.O.T.C. and reigned over the evening's festivities.

An innovation in the R.O.T.C. program came this year with the formation of a Girl's Rifle Team and Faculty Rifle Teams for men and women. Little opportunity was given for competition but both groups hope to improve their schedules in the future.

The Boys' Rifle Team, coached by M/Sgt. Schmidt, copped the first-place award in the Fifth Army Interscholastic Matches held January 15-31.

Howe cadets were reviewed in their Federal Inspection held in May, 1957. Visiting officers from the regular army rated the boys' performance as "superior." A gold star, representing the rating, will be pinned to the school flag by Principal C. M. Sharp during the 1958 Federal Inspection.

Instrumental music

Dance Band produces smooth sounds

In the state instrumental solo and ensemble contests held in February, Howe received more first-division ratings than any other school in Marion County. This fact alone illustrates what fine instruction instrumental students at Howe receive and how hard the students themselves must have worked.

The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Constantine Poulimas, has grown to 46 members. Concerts were given at School #78 and #62 to establish good public relations and to promote the study of string instruments in the lower grades.

"It will be another 3 or 4 years before we will be able to set up a full orchestra program," said Mr. Poulimas. "The plan must begin in the grade schools so the students will be partially prepared by the time they reach Howe."

Music for the senior play and other school functions was provided by the Little Symphony, a smaller and more flexible group organized this year. It can be used when the complete orchestra is unnecessary, and it gives some of the better musicians an opportunity to play as one unit.

Fourteen Howe orchestra members were chosen to play in the All-City Orchestra which received recognition for its top-flight performances.

Mr. Louis McEndrfer's band of 75 members added to the color of the football games by marching and presenting half-time shows with the majorettes. They also participated in several parades during the warmer months.

Several Howe band members were part of the All-City Band, a group made up of the best musicians from each city high school's marching band.

Joan Headlee, flutist and member of both the orchestra and the band, won first place in the Jordan College of Music Young People's Concert auditions and Mac Klein, who plays trumpet, was chosen alternate.

A smaller division of the band is the Howe Dance Band which plays for school and community dances. The popularity of the group is demonstrated by the number of program offers they have received.

Choir marks twentieth anniversary

Another phase of Howe's music program is vocal music. The Howe Choir of 76 members is directed by Mr. Frank Watkins, chairman of the music department. First period of the day always finds the choir rehearsing for one of their many engagements. The highlight of the choir agenda this year was the 20th anniversary record. School songs and special numbers associated with commencement and the May Pageant were used to commemorate important events throughout the school year.

The Choralaires, an all-girl choral unit, were filmed for the "Stand Out" program on WLW-I television. Their busy schedule of engagements also included a "Young America Sings" radio program.

Both the Boys' and the Girls' Octets enjoyed their usual round of appearances at school, community, and city functions. Their goal is to present a good appearance, to sing well, and to maintain the reputation established by preceding Howe octets for giving enjoyable programs.

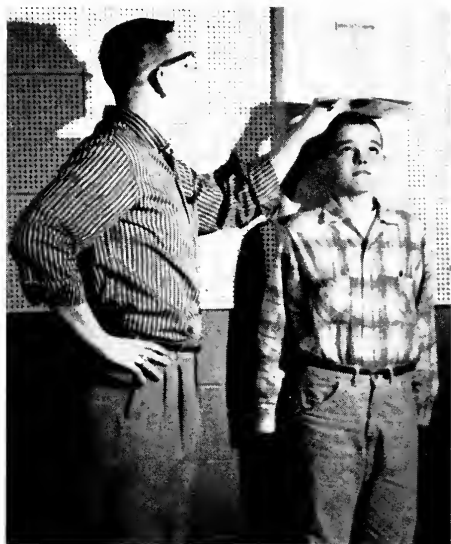

Last but not least are the Madrigal Singers whose purpose is to preserve the old tradition, stemming from medieval times, when a group gathered around the table after dinner to sing the popular songs of the day. Secular music of a nonsensical nature and love songs are two types usually performed by this a cappella singing group.

Student council

Council supports cleanup campaign

Each homeroom is responsible for selecting a student to represent it in the Howe Student Council. This group acts as an intermediary between the student body and the Howe administration. It attempts to consider suggestions from both sides and enact the ones that will best serve Howe.

Another function of the Council is to greet freshmen on their first day at Howe. This courtesy helps familiarize new Howeites with the building and lessens their apprehensions concerning the upper-classmen.

At the beginning of each semester, the Council also sponsors a Freshman Mixer to aid the frosh in getting acquainted with one another.

Other helpful projects of the Student Council were the good sportmanship campaign before sectionals, the winter talent show assembly, the senior-faculty basketball game, and the well-publicized clean-up campaign. Due to the council's efforts on this campaign last year, Howe tied with two other city high schools for first place honors as the cleanest school.

Nancy Hoffman was elected to lead the organization after she and Sue Osborne attended the National Student Council Conference at Roswell, New Mexico, last summer. Nancy received additional preparation at the National Leadership Training Conference held at Estes Park, Colorado.

Nancy, Pat Smith, and Ann Schumaker were elected Howe's delegates to the Intra-City Council for which Nancy was chosen president—the first girl to hold the position.

Hilltopper records twenty

April of 1957 found the newly appointed HILLTOPPER staff making preparations for the annual Turnabout Twirl.

To begin the school year in September, Shirley Frey, editor-in-chief, and Sally Turpen, associate editor, explained what they had accomplished at the Journalism Institute at Indiana University. During this summer clinic, a dummy of the actual yearbook was constructed and the Howe representatives merited a second-place award for their efforts.

October was recognizable by the numerous colorful posters that decorated the halls advertising both the Brown and Gold Dance and the HILLTOPPER sales campaign. Business managers Jo Hinsch and Mike Hunt headed the campaign which resulted in a record sale of yearbooks to the student body.

The popular Brown and Gold Dance attracted such a crowd that tables were arranged in the cafeteria to handle the overflow.

With March 28 set as the deadline date, staff members busied themselves with the endless duties connected with producing an annual. As the year progressed, the work pace quickened and anxieties increased. After the deadline, the staff relaxed until the proofs were returned for checking.

Before the school year ended, new appointments for the '59 staff were revealed, and pins and certificates were presented to members of the old staff at the annual Publications Birthday party in May.

We of the 1958 HILLTOPPER wish to express our sincere thanks to Mr. Earl Loudermilk and staff, photographers; Mr. Richard Brier, the Indianapolis Engraving Company; Mr. Bill Miles, Indianapolis Printing Company; and Mr. Jack Bundy, S. K. Smith Cover Company. We sincerely appreciate their assistance in preparing the yearbook.

Publications

Long hours of hard work are required of the TOWER staff to meet each deadline date of Howe's bi-weekly newspaper. The publication contains news concerning clubs, activities, sports, individuals, future events, interviews, and humorous stories and question-answer polls. It gives an over-all coverage of newsworthy incidents around Howe.

First the editors must roughly determine the general plan of the next issue and decide what stories they want written. Feature writers receive their assignments and reporters check out their "beat" cards and follow up any leads they may find. Interviewing busy teachers and cross-country runners as they dash along Pleasant Run Parkway is all part of the reporters' and feature writers' jobs.

When the articles are completed, the copy readers and editors take over. Each story must be carefully checked for length and grammatical errors before it is sent to the printer. Page editors arrange the news items on their pages and finally, the finished proofs are sent back to the printer and the process begins again.

Staff appointments are made by the retiring staff in the spring. This year's TOWER was headed by two editors-in-chief. Sally Mable held the position until she graduated mid-year, after which Jim Knaur was promoted to the post.

Two TOWERITES received unusual recognition for their journalistic talents. Feature writer Jean Kovac had one of her stories published in the magazine Student Life. Judy Pigman was awarded $100 by the Freedom's Foundation for her editorial on the freedom of assembly.

Page editors Ann Schumaker, Dave Carmichael, Jim Knauer, and Liz Geider check other school publications to get ideas for the TOWER.

Sally Mabel and Jim Knauer both served as editor-in-chief. After Sally's graduation Jim was promoted from associate editor to editor-in-chief.

Service Groups

Clubs keep Howe informed while

The purpose of the CUB CLUB is to expose students to the facts of journalism before they join the TOWER or HILLTOPPER staffs. The club, sponsored by Mrs. Joan Brown, publishes its own annual paper, the Cub Courier. They also serve as reporters for the TOWER. The Cub Club calendar was filled with speakers from the local newspaper, other people connected with journalism, and a conducted tour through a newspaper plant.

The boys who operate the PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM perform a valuable school service. Under the direction of Mr. Richard Hammond, their sponsor, they operate the P.A. system, and supervise daily broadcasts and programs.

Responsible for collecting, writing, and sending Howe news to the city and community papers is the News Bureau. Each of the girls on the staff handles stories assigned either by Mr. Wayne Mellott or by her particular paper.

The TOWER Ad Staff, sponsored by Mr. Frank Tout, procures and designs advertisements for the Howe newspaper. This staff must "sell" ad space in the TOWER to Irvington merchants.

Student Business Managers handle most of the extra-curricular activities, including play tickets and athletic season tickets. This involves publicity and bookkeeping. Mr. Charles Ruschhaupt sponsors this group.

Drama Club

Because of a new method of selecting the cast for Footlight Reveler productions, the club membership has been greatly expanded. Under the present system, any student is eligible to try out for a role in one of the plays given. Those who take part in any phase of the production are considered members of the dramatic club.

This year's group, sponsored by Mr. Frank Tout, was headed by Jean Kovac, president; Diana Dugan, vice-president; and Judie Elkins, scribe.

"Arsenic and Old Lace" was the major project undertaken by the Revelers. With Diana Dugan and Shirley Frey, portraying the naive, but bloodthirsty, old ladies, the comedy was presented at a matinee performance in addition to a regular evening show.

Revelers present

A select few of the Revelers also have the distinction of belonging to the National Thespian Society. To achieve this honor, members must participate in several theatrical ventures which enable them to earn Thespian points.

Clubs

Hi-Y groups render service:

Members of BETA HI-Y, a freshman and sophomore boys' service club, have many activities during the year. These all are to help further their goal, "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character."

These activities vary from sponsoring the Sweetheart Dance, contributing to the World Service Y.M.C.A., and checking coats at the dances, to enjoying movies and swimming parties with the boys in their own group.

The officers and members work with Mr. Ralph Clevenger who sponsors the BETA HI-Y.

SENIOR HI-Y maintains a busy year for its club members. They have sponsored dances after Howe's home games and participated in the model United Nations with other Hi-Y groups and the Tri-Hi-Y groups.

Their biggest project is sponsoring the Sweetheart dance in the spring. The SENIOR HI-Y's choose five girls for candidates but the Sweetheart is chosen by those attending the dance.

Their programs consist of devotions, and business followed by an educational program. The SENIOR HI-Y's are sponsored by Mr. Virgil Heniser and Mr. Harold Crawford.

Quiz-em wins "Lamp of Learning"

The PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB is one of the newest clubs at Howe. Members learn many new talents, one of which is developing their own pictures. A study of the history of photography and the physical and chemical properties involved in putting a camera together have been made, also.

The pinhole camera, the simplest type of camera, was made by the club members as one of their study projects.

Jim Beeson is president of the group, Roberta Whiteley is secretary, and Mr. Richard Dowell is the sponsor.

Howe's QUIZ 'EM TEAM is one group of which Howe is justly proud. The team met St. John's Academy, St. Agnes' Academy, Shortridge High School, and Warren Central High School in the City and County-wide tourney to emerge victorious. As champions the team received a set of Collier's Encyclopedia and the "Lamp of Learning" trophy.

These meets, sponsored by the Indianapolis Star and radio station WIRE, are recorded at the high schools. At the broadcast each team has to answer 32 current events questions in two one-minute rounds. Each correct answer scores 100 points. Because each team must answer the same 32 questions, only one group is actually before the mike at any time.

In preparation for the contests, Quiz 'Em team members read newspapers thoroughly and drill an hour daily on sample questions for three days preceding the meet.

In previous years' meets Howe's Quiz 'Em teams have won reference books and world globes for the school. Seniors Julia Freeman, Jane Meyer, and Wendell Tucker have been teammates for two years. Mike Hunt, junior, and alternates Esther Crandall and Carol Rafert joined the team for the 1957-58 season. The champions were coached by Mrs. Miriam Barnes of the Social Studies Department.

Girl's Clubs

Tri-Hi-Y attend Model U. N.:

TRI-HI-Y, now in its second year, is one of the busiest clubs at Howe. During the year they have joint meetings with other Tri-Hi-Y groups, take charge of a Thanksgiving program, plan a World Service program, and help the Hi-Y and the "400" Club sell tickets for school activities. However, these were only a few of their service projects.

The biggest event of the year was the girls' participation in the Model UN with other Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y groups from Marion County. Delegates discussed the same major issues as does the United Nations in New York, acting as if they were truly from the countries they represented. This year the Model UN, which is the largest in the nation, was covered by Life magazine. Also three girls visited New York and the real UN during spring vacation. Mrs. Hariette Baker is the club sponsor.

All the girls look forward to joining the VIHOTA CLUB their junior year. It is one of the most honored and well-established clubs at Howe. For many years it was a service group and helped new clubs to get started.

Each year Vihota girls are nominated for Violet Queen by the members of the club. The final selection of the Queen is made by the student body. The crowning of the Violet Queen is a school tradition celebrating Howe's anniversary.

Entertainment provided for the Vihota members includes the annual Mad Hatter's Ball. The girls brought left over Christmas wrappings to make a hat. A contest was held to see who could make the most clever hat from the paper wrappings. Mrs. Ruth Reed, the club sponsor, helped to judge the hats.

Girl's clubs

La Nina plan social parties:

LA NINA, the sophomore girls' club, brings increased friendships and the knowledge of parliamentary procedures.

During the year, the girls have had many interesting speakers, including our own Mr. Robert Turner who spoke to the club about teenage life in Cuba. The biggest event for the girls was planning the all-girl Valentine party. They also made decorations for the Christmas party and had their own Hallowe'en party. Regular meetings included panel discussions on dates, mates, etc. La Nina participated in Stunt Day with other girls' clubs.

President for this year was Barbara Leonard; vice president, Susan Green; secretary, Jeanne Goode; treasurer, Judy Johnson; and their sponsor is Miss Jerry Motley.

SELOFRA's main object is to promote friendship among the freshman girls, help acquaint them with the school, and to provide the girls with social affairs.

Highlights of the year included the style show where the girls modeled their own clothes and a party to greet new freshmen, given at the beginning of the second semester. The club also participated in Stunt Day, held in the spring.

On Ribbon Day these freshmen wore their green ribbons given to them in a ceremony at the club meeting the day before.

Officers for this year were Marty Richards, president; Diane Kelly, vice president; Cindy Sirmin, secretary; and Janet Campbell, treasurer. Their sponsor is Miss Ellen O'Drain.

Academic Clubs

Clubs further classroom interests

Since the launching of Sputnik greater emphasis has been placed on scientific study and research. The SCIENCE CLUB encourages students interested in science to pursue the course of study. The club members conducted numerous experiments and projects this year, also having occasional guest speakers. In addition, the club published a science newspaper entitled Atom Dust. The editors of the paper were Gary Holobek and Steve Switzer.

Many club members entered projects in the annual Science Fair at Butler University on April 12 and Howe took some of the top honors. Another club honor came when Gary Holobek and Julia Freeman were voted Most Outstanding Boy and Girl Scientists of Indiana this past year. The club sponsor is Miss Jerry Motley.

The goal of the SPEECH CLUB is to promote interest in the many divisions of speech work. The club members strive to develop increased self-confidence in the student and to promote more effective use of the elements of expression. The club members have been hosts to the I.H.S.F.A. District Speech contest. The members also entered the Ball State Speech Tournament, Inter-City Speech Tournament, and the American Legion Oratorical Contest. The club members entered into the divisions of extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, dramatic declamation, oratorical declamation, and humorous declamation. The radio division has completed five half-hour radio broadcasts for WIAN. Club sponsors are Mrs. Janice Voyles and Mrs. Barbara Emry.

LATIN CLUB provides an interesting background of the Roman people. Through a common interest, fifty students learn about life with the Romans which is not included in the regular course of study.

Highlights of the year included the Christmas party, Valentine party, and the Roman banquet. At the banquet the meal was prepared and eaten in Roman style.

Each summer the local chapter of the Junior Classical League offers high school students a trip to Colorado. Representatives to the 1958 convention were Anne Husted, Maryellen Smartz, Judi Hannewald, and Ruthanne Reynolds. The club sponsors are Miss Marjorie Rork and Mrs. Vesta R. Cohee.

Clubs

Nursing, service, and homemaking

The FUTURE NURSES CLUB brings together girls interested in nursing as a career. The purpose of the club is to acquaint the "future nurses" with the requirements and qualifications of the nursing profession. Members of the club have visited hospitals, entertained special speakers, and made Christmas cards for hospitalized patients. A few girls have served as volunteer nurse's aids. Miss Celia Smith is the club sponsor.

The motto of the RED CROSS CLUB is to be of service to others. The activities of the club include making Christmas stockings and tray favors for hospitalized veterans and filling Red Cross boxes for school children in other countries. The club has also contributed to the American Red Cross Children's Fund, and they helped to distribute posters for the United Fund Drive and the Red Cross Drive. The club sponsor is Mrs. Florence Sharp.

The HOME ECONOMICS CLUB is both a social and instructional club. Membership is open to all girls who have had at least one semester of a home economics course.

The members have enjoyed many activities this past year. Among these were various demonstrations of fabrics, beauty culture, and gift wrapping. Miss Lois Coy, who sponsors the club, feels that the girls gain many helpful hints from these activities.

At the beginning of the semester there is a party welcoming the new members with an installation and initiation ceremony to follow later. They have their own ribbons and colors, too.

The purpose of the HOME ECONOMICS CLUB is "to live better today in order that we may live better tomorrow." By following this idea the members feel that they can more easily prepare for their futures.

Clubs

From projectors to chess games.

The AUDIO-VISUAL CLUB, headed by Mr. William Smith, is a school service organization. Students in the club voluntarily give their time to operate movie projectors throughout the school. This non-credit club has sixty members which meet every week to discuss their problems. Members of the Audio-Visual Club receive a pin for their service if they have served for five semesters and are seniors. Other members receive a Citation of Merit for their service.

CHESS CLUB, headed by Mr. Harold Stahly, was organized for the enjoyment of students who play chess and would like to learn more about it. There are approximately twenty-five members in the club. During the spring semester, tournaments are held and the winner receives a gold pin. A team from another school competed with Howe for the Chess title.

The MATH and SUB-SET CLUBS are sponsored by Mr. Robert Carr. The clubs were organized to further interest in math and show students that math can be fun. Math Club membership is restricted to math majors. However, anyone interested in math may join Sub-Set. The year's plans included a trip to Powerama and a visit to the Nuclear Measurements Corporation. At regular meetings, students work difficult mathematical problems and puzzles.

Off to a flying start is Howe's AVIATION CLUB, organized this year. Mr. Wathen Leasor is the sponsor of the new club. Discussions and films on flying are the high points of the meetings. From these films the members gather information and ideas for their own models which they construct. When spring arrives, evidence of their handi-work will be in the skies above Howe.

With only five returning lettermen, the Hornets displayed an impressive performance in the city high school Football Jamboree at the Tech field. However, newly appointed head coach Richard Guyer and his squad found the going a little rougher than expected.

In the opening game of the season arch-rival Tech was too much for the Hornets to handle. Though dropping the next six games to their opponents, the gridders, with high team spirit and a "never say die" attitude, came back to roll over Warren Central by a score of 13-0. With most of their starting field back, the Hornets are most likely to be strong contenders for the city championship next season.

Most Valuable Player Award given by the Men's 400 Club went to Max Woodbury. This year's "Best Mental Attitude Award," given by the Kiwanis club, went to Bill French. Spencer Smith was chosen the team captain.

Recipients of white letter sweaters were juniors: T. Shepard, J. Deeter, M. Van Cleave, M. Woodbury, M. Justice, F. Bayne, B. Johnson, P. Stewart, and M. White; seniors: S. Smith, D. Lee, B. French, J. Childers, R. Strange, T. Monroe, J. Neel, B. Starks, R. Schrader, R. Carrico, C. Bondy, K. Bowen, B. Taylor, L. Toole, B. Reynolds, and J. Shortridge.

Coach Harrison Richardson's reserve squad finished the season with an even record of two wins, two losses, and two ties.

Improving over last season's record, Howe's freshmen team, under the coaching of Mr. Lyman Combs, completed the season with a won-loss record of three and two.

The Howe Hornets, in white uniforms, once again threaten Noblesville players with a drive through the center line in the opponent's territory. Despite this strategy and spirit, Noblesville turned the tables for a winning game.

Cross country

Harriers post undefeated record:

Posting a superior record of seven wins and no losses, Howe's varsity cross country team breezed through the season in great style. Coach Rex Anderson's harriers displayed fine ability by placing second in the city meet. Russ Lash paced the Hornets to a second place rating in the Howe Invitational, and he later captured the state championship in the 2-mile event. The reserve and freshmen squads also were credited with undefeated seasons.

Another first at Howe is the newly formed wrestling squad. Coached by Mr. Raymond Moon, the grapplers sported a gallant but losing season. Howe defeated Warren Central and Broad Ripple and tied a match with Ripple earlier in the season.

In the City Tourney, Howe placed seventh and in the Sectional they placed fifth. Howe accumulated more points in match play than any other first year team in the city.

Basketball

Howe's netmen fight gallantly

Basketball, the Hoosier hysteria, hit Howe with full force this year. The Hornets, although inexperienced, fought gallantly through every minute of every game. "This was truly," said Coach Forest Witsman, "a season of rebuilding and regrouping."

The netmen lost only three seniors in Carl Swenson, center, Mike Smith, guard, and Bill Price, guard. Such names as Mike Matthews, Dave Konold, Glen Pride, Max Woodbury, Dave Miller and many others will be seen again on next years' roster.

This year the Hornets had a 3-19 season. The first of the three victories was against Connersville, a rugged team, defensively and offensively, and the second, Southport, a serious threat to any team.

During the Sectional, Howe won its first game against Beech Grove by an 85-60 score. Howe's total points in this game were the Smith was also high point man of the season with a total of 216 points. Max Woodbury placed second with 154 points and Dave Miller was third with 142 points.

Cindermen post splendid season

Howe's varsity track team was in the spotlight again this year. Sporting a splendid 7-2 season, the spikesters were only downed on two occasions. Attucks and Broad Ripple defeated Howe by close margins.

Louis Sharp was elected captain by his teammates. He also was presented the "Best Mental Attitude" award. Given the "Most Valuable Player" medal was Jack Burgan. Along with Burgan, Rush Lash and Bob Bransford spirited the other cindermen on to their triumphant season.

Lash, an outstanding track man as well as a cross country harrier, shattered the school record for the mile with a remarkable 4:25.3 as well as defeating all comers in the State mile. However, Lash wasn't the only record breaker at Howe. Bob Bransford bettered the high jump record at Howe. The record now stands at six feet.

Another record breaker was the Howe half mile relay team. They ran a record 1:35.2 for the half mile. The team consisted of Burgan, Mickey Shields, Max Woodbury, and Sharp.

Following the tradition, Howe's reserves sported a 4-1 season. Losing only to Washington, the reserves defeated the remaining four teams by considerable margins.

The frosh completed the season with 4 wins and 4 losses. They placed fourth in the city meet and sixth in the Wood Relays.

Linksmen coupled with

Under the careful guidance of their coach, Lyman Combs, Howe's netmen attained the rank of "city champs" for the first time in only three years of varsity competition.

Howe led the other five teams in the city tourney, and wasn't once threatened by them. The margin between Howe and the second place team was 21 points. The top players for the Howe racquetmen were Phil Nonweiler, John Beswick, Tom Lawson, and Steve Leane and Tom Hearn were co-captains.

Lawson and Nonweiler defeated all competition to take first place in the city doubles' meet. Nonweiler added another spark by downing all comers in the singles' competition.

Howe's varsity golf team, coached by Mr. Fred C. Lemley, finished the season with three wins and five losses. Dave Peters paced the way for the Hornets with scores ranging from the low seventies to the low eighties. In the city-county tourney Howe placed fourth. In the sectional the Hornets took third place, and the linksmen made an outstanding showing in the state meet by capturing sixth place with a team score of 325.

Co-captain honors were awarded to Bob Thompson and Bill Stevens; gold golf balls to Dave Peters and Bob Thompson; white sweaters to George Loy and Bill Stevens; eight inch block letters to Ron VonBurg and Curt Miller.

Cheers help spirit

From the beginning to the end of the sports season, each Wednesday afternoon, voices of the cheerleaders resound through the halls. The varsity squad begins practice in mid-August with rearrangements of yells and plans for the coming year. Varsity and reserve groups were chosen in the spring and the freshmen squad was chosen in the fall.

The cheerleader conference held at Indiana University last November was one of the highlights of the year. There, ideas and styles of yells were exchanged among the cheerleaders from the many schools who attended.

In January the varsity squad, aided by the reserve, held a two-week school spirit campaign. Better school spirit and a large booster club resulted. The cheerleaders are sponsored by the energetic Mrs. Barbara Wood.

Baseball squad piles up

Howe's varsity baseball team, sparked by outstanding pitching performances from Dave Peters and strong hitting power from Ronnie Heath and Ronnie Chappell, came through another fine season with eleven wins and four losses. After dropping three of their first five games by close margins, Coach Roscoe Pier-son's squad caught fire and took eight straight games from their opponents. The Hornets divided the last two games, losing to Manual and winning from Wolf Lake.

Dave Peters was voted captain by his team-mates. Best Mental Attitude and Most Val-uable Player honors were awarded to Ron Chappell and Ron Heath, respectively. Jim Glotfelty received the Most Improved Player Award.

Managers serve teams

Student athletic managers are an important factor in all athletic events. They administer first aid to the players and are considered to be all-around handymen.

Under the direction of Mr. Alvin Geier, the managers take charge of the equipment and assist the coaches in the many tasks of direct-ing an athletic team.

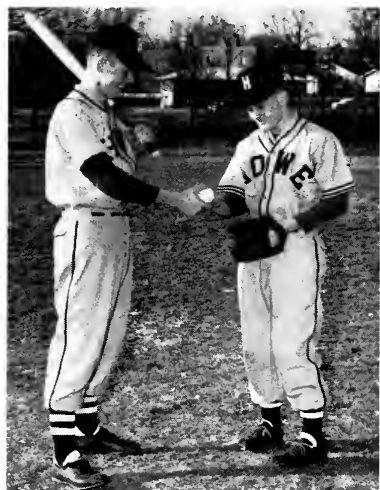

If the boys are interested enough in their positions, they can earn a letter sweater in return for their efforts. There is a great op-portunity for underclassmen as student athletic managers in any sport they choose.

Lettermen and GAA enjoy

Lettermen's Club members must have earned at least one varsity letter in one of the many sports offered at Howe.

Members park cars, usher at basketball games, sponsor the Winter Wonderland Dance with the GAA, and elect representatives to serve on the school Athletic Board.

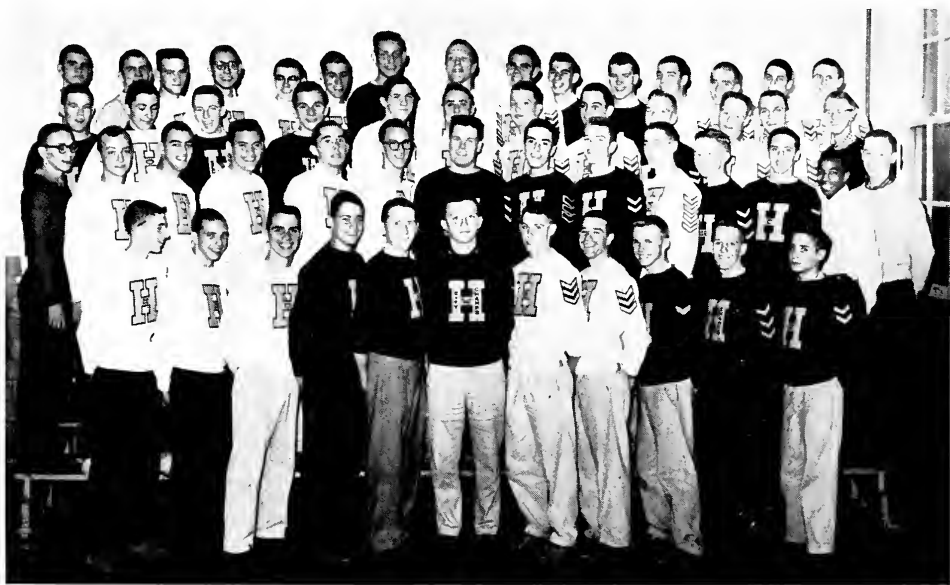

Past and present Lettermen and Hi-Y members joined to provide a plaque honoring the memory of Mr. Ray Bowman, Howe's former track coach. The plaque was set over the inside entrance to the gym in October of 1957.

Officers are Russell Lash, president; Bill French, vice president; Charlie Harris, secretary; Steve Bruner, treasurer; Dave Carmichael, chaplain, and Mr. Lyman Combs, sponsor.

Throughout the school year on Thursdays GAA members enjoy volleyball, basketball, speedball, apparatus workouts, recreational games, track events, and modern dance programs.

Dick Strange was crowned King at the annual Winter Wonderland Dance, held the Friday before Christmas vacation so Santa Claus could make his traditional visit. This year two Santas were needed for the many Christmas gift requests.

The Girls' Athletic Association is governed by a board of seven representatives elected by the members. They are Judy Fouts, Shirley Nicholas, Judy Quinn, Suzy Schmidt, Carol Siegman, Peggy Conduff, and Sharon Reynolds. Miss Johanne Guenter is the sponsor.

Principal

Mr. Sharp heads 20 years of growth

Mr. Sharp spends much of the day at his desk. In reference to his job as principal, he regrets the fact that paper work keeps him from visiting more classes.

"The opportunity to become principal of a new school and to have the privilege of helping build and develop it has been a wonderful experience," said Howe's first and only principal, Mr. Charles McKay Sharp.

Graduating with a B.S. from Wittenberg College and receiving his master's at Butler University, Mr. Sharp was well qualified to take up a teaching career. As science department head at Manual H.S. and later vice-principal, he dreamed that he might one day play a major role in the building of a new school.

Although he belongs to many educational organizations and has held prominent offices in them, his first thoughts have been for the betterment of Howe and its student body.

A true educator, Mr. Sharp enjoys most visiting classes where the real work is done. His greatest satisfaction comes at the end of a day in which he feels that something has really been accomplished. No one acquainted with Howe will ever forget Mr. Sharp—counselor, friend, principal of Howe High School.

Howe's R.O.T.C. has attained honor rating at Federal Inspections since its beginning. At the 1957 inspection, Mr. Sharp had the privilege of pinning the honor star on the R.O.T.C. streamer.

One of Mr. Sharp's more pleasant duties is crowning the football queen at the homecoming game. He gives Queen Judy Pope a congratulatory kiss during the coronation ceremony.

School Helpers

To these we owe our thanks

Hiking in the Rockies and watching the Milwaukee Braves top the list of favorite pastimes for two Howe teachers while other faculty members disagree, insisting that riding horses or gardening is the best way to spend one's leisure time. One feminine faculty member raises African violets to the dismay of her husband who suggests moving and leaving the house to the violets.

Though Howe teachers find time for such non-school activities, this by no means indicates that they are not kept busy with class preparations and club sponsorships, coaching or other extra-curricular activities. Many years of hard work are represented in the scholastic records of our well-qualified teaching staff, who have obtained their degrees from 29 different colleges and universities in 9 different states.

Our office and custodian staffs are efficient forces at Howe who work the year 'round to keep Howe successfully serving its community. Though most of the office work is done behind the scenes, a lot of the time is devoted directly to the students. Many a time Mrs. Kathryn Pirtle in Room 124 has stopped her typing to answer Howeites' questions about part-time excuses or the whereabouts of a teacher.

And at any time of day it is not unusual to see one of the janitors pruning the small bushes around the building, for keeping the campus in shape is just one of the important jobs met capably by this staff.

From 7:30 in the morning to 2:00 in the afternoon seems scarcely enough time in which to prepare food for and feed 1888 hungry people. This, however, is just part of the daily routine to Mrs. Arla Hunt and her cafeteria staff. Howeites, provided with healthful, inexpensive meals, are frequently unaware of the detailed planning which goes into ordering the many pounds of vegetables and many pints of milk which we consume weekly.

National Honor Society

Students honored at Howe first

March 15, 1958, marked a big day for 96 juniors and seniors who were tapped at assembly to be the first members of Howe's chapter of the National Honor Society. Purposes of the society are to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to serve others and to develop character and leadership. Fifteen per cent of the senior class and ten per cent of the junior were nominated on the basis of these purposes. Mr. Robert Turner was named as the society's sponsor.

At the March 27 formal induction, Mr. A. R. Mahin, sponsor of the Broad Ripple Chapter, welcomed the Howe Chapter and Miss Margaret Coombs, co-sponsor, gave a brief history of the National Honor Society. Howe candidates were led in the society pledge by Charles Taylor, president of the Ripple chapter. Other Ripple members participating in the ceremony were Judy Heavenridge, John Sims, John Kingdon, and Marilyn Weil. By installing Howe's chapter Ripple observed its own chapter's 20th anniversary.

After receiving her National Honor Society pin, Roberta Whiteley lights a bulb in the torch of learning.

Seniors

Senior year filled with studies,

We've come a long way since our first days at Howe. As freshmen we were notorious for walking into the wrong classrooms at the wrong time, but as sophomores we no longer received the kidding, but, instead, passed it along to the "freshies." Our junior year we had our own Junior Prom, and on May 23, when we received our senior rings, we were just a short step from the biggest and best year at Howe.....our senior year.

The first recognition we received as seniors was the choice seats in assembly. Having homeroom in the cafeteria was another of the "honors" given us "grown up" Howeites.

The first thing on our calendar of senior events was the election of officers. After several days of balloting we chose the "big five" who were to preside over the class of '58. We soon found out how busy all the senior activities would keep us as we were all placed on a committee.

Choosing our senior colors was an important job. Selecting the right band for our senior prom took a lot of discussing and consideration. The annual winter party was a lot of fun. Our class day and spring party were combined and held a few days before graduation.

Mr. Charles Ruschhaupt, senior sponsor, kept us posted on college news and scholarship notices. College bound seniors found his advice helpful in making the "big decision." Those seniors not interested in college were informed of job opportunities.

After receiving our senior colors, we all pledged we would "uphold the ideals" that our colors stated. We chose brown, signifying the honor and good which we hoped to extend to our homes, churches, and nation; coral, symbolizing the care we will extend to our mind and body; and, signifying the respect we hold for our school, we chose gold.

Vespers were over before we knew it and graduation was here before we'd had a chance to say good-bye to all our friends at Howe.

LEFT—"Charlie", measuring Frankie Nims for her gown, has many duties as senior sponsor, and is always on the job. MIDDLE—Many times seniors may be found in the senior office looking over the college notices on the bulletin board. Here Bob McLaughlin, Janet Coleman, and Marion Archer exchange views about which college is best. RIGHT—After announcements are over it's study time in senior homeroom, but some seniors need convincing.

activities, and good friends

Seniors donned their Sunday best to dance around the ladder which was part of the decorations for the Senior Winter Party. Held on Friday the thirteenth, we called it "The Bad Luck Blast."

By the time the eighth hour rolled around those "heels" became unbearable, for the senior girls and the boys looked rather tired, but everyone was as good as new when the band started to play the first dance at the Winter Party.

Seniors

Seniors capture spotlight during

After surviving the many difficulties in memorizing lines, learning cues, extra rehearsals, and costume fittings, the seniors who starred in this year's class play, "And Never Been Kissed," written by Auran Harris, learned "the show must go on."

In the play, Flory Patterson, a teenager, believes that when she reaches sixteen, she will automatically become beautiful, with boy-friends by the score. Until that time she must try all kinds of beauty preparations and love potions before any boy will be attracted to her. Along with her best friend, Millie, she manages to get herself into all kinds of fixes.

Cast of the senior play included:

Millie Myers.....	Doris Vogt
Flory Patterson	Sue Osborne
Gilmore Picker	Glen Freeman
Mrs. Patterson	Joan Miller
Mr. Peabody	Donn Richardson
Mavy Patterson	Jean Kovac
Charlie McCulley	King Bowen
Betty Ferguson	Mary Lois Holaday
Douglas Schaeffer.....	Steve Carter
Christine Roberts	Sally Mabel
Gertrude Mason	Maria Sirmin
Phillip Peabody	Tom Lawson
Director	Mr. Frank Tout

The 1958 senior play cast gathers on stage to receive last minute instructions from their director, Mr. Tout. They include (sitting) Donn Richardson, Doris Vogt, Sally Mabel, Jean Kovac, (standing) Sue Osborne, Joan Miller, Mary Lois Holaday, King Bowen, Tom Lawson, Steve Carter, Maria Sirmin, and Glen Freeman.

Senior Play, "And Never Been Kissed"

Flory has the misfortune of having a younger sister, Mavy, who always manages to say the wrong thing at the wrong time. Millie Myers (Doris Vogt, left) and Flory (Sue Osborne, middle) are doing their homework, but their conversation is mostly about boys and dates. Mavy Patterson (Jean Kovac, right) hears some of the conversation and tells her sister Flory that since she is so "dumb" in school, she should spend more time on her studies and less time on boys.

Mavy Patterson (Jean Kovac, right) and her girl friend Betty Ferguson (Mary Lois Holaday, left) are indulging in their favorite pastime, eating. They explain to Mavy's mother that they went to the corner grocery and took advantage of all the samples the store was giving away, and they explain, also, that the clerk at the store gave them a bag of peanuts, too. Mrs. Patterson (Joan Miller, middle) laughs at the two girls as they happily eat their "loot."

JAMES DOVE

Time flies so fast . . . another school year has ended . . . some will be back . . . others must say good-by . . . good-by to the crowded halls . . . good-by to the noisy lunch halls and silent study hours . . . thrill-packed basketball games and sub-zero football bouts . . . fun-packed Pleasant Run Revue . . . swaying to the strains of Vic Knight at the Brown and Gold . . . walking up the front steps
. . . the Tower clock silently marking the passing of time . . .
and the little bridge spanning old Pleasant Run . . .

So ends

This your 20th year

Carol,

man does not live by bread alone, but by beauty and harmony, truth and goodness, work & recreation, affection and friendship, aspiration & love.

friendship is a thing that can't be given away, it always comes back. So in your golden chain of friendship may I be a link.

I'll always cherish the wonderful hours we've spent together.

You are an inspirational club sister and friend

I am one of the sweetest girls I know with a sharp personality. I've enjoyed knowing you this past semester. Loads of love & luck

So Carol,
 a real nice gal
 who I have enjoyed being in English with.
 You have a good
 personality, so stay as you are & you will go far. Lots of luck.
